SAVANNAH, Ga. - Armstrong Atlantic State University senior defender Kelli Bahr and junior forward Kristina Pascutti have each been named to the Capital One/CoSIDA Division II Academic All-America Women's Soccer team, released today.

Bahr was named to the first team, while Pascutti was named to the second team. Bahr is just the second Capital One/CoSIDA Academic All-America first team honoree in Armstrong women's soccer history, joining Kristin Burton (2009), while Pascutti is the first second-team honoree in program history. Burton was a third-team honoree in 2007 and 2008 and Ashley Elam was a third-team honoree in 2007.

A fifth-year senior who anchors Armstrong's defense this season, Bahr carried a 3.88 GPA in receiving her undergraduate degree in early childhood education in May and currently has a 4.00 GPA in her graduate school courses. A two-time Daktronics All-American honoree on the field as well, Bahr has helped the No. 7-ranked Pirates to the NCAA DII Final Four while scoring two goals and one assist and helping Armstrong recod a team 0.83 GAA. The Middleton, Wisc., native is playing this week in Pensacola where she played youth soccer as a child, helping Pensacola Futbol Club to a U-13 state title.

Pascutti, meanwhile, was the co-Peach Belt Conference Player of the Year in 2011 for leading the Pirates in goals (12) and points (27). The Lilburn, Ga., native carries a 3.78 GPA in biology and also earned All-Region honors, collecting five game-winning goals this season.
